Everyone Active Celebrating Community Champions

Unsung heroes making a difference across Nuneaton and Bedworth are being urged to step forward for a groundbreaking new scheme offering free access to local leisure facilities.

Everyone Active, which runs Pingles Leisure Centre, Bedworth Leisure Centre and Jubilee Sports Centre in partnership with Nuneaton and Bedworth Borough Council, wants to support projects which are tackling local issues and changing lives.

The award-winning operator has launched its Community Champions scheme to build stronger communities and recognise the dedication of those who go above and beyond.

People involved in mentoring, promoting health and wellbeing, supporting inclusivity or leading environmental or cultural projects are being encouraged to apply. It can be a charitable initiative or a project that is small or targeted.

Successful applicants will secure valuable use of facilities within their local leisure centres, to help them carry out these projects.

Everyone Active will raise awareness of this work to strengthen connections, encourage civic engagement and foster a culture of giving back.

Those selected for the Community Champions scheme are also in with a chance of being shortlisted for the Champions Awards in autumn of this year.

"We want to highlight the work of everyday heroes who are changing people's lives and inspiring others to make a positive impact in their communities."

"We encourage local people, community projects and charitable initiatives to get their applications in so we can support the fantastic work that you do."

CT Scanner at Pingles Remains for May

A mobile CT Scanner unit will remain in Nuneaton until the end of this month, providing a vital healthcare service to residents.

The unit, which is used for lung cancer screening, will be situated at Pingles Leisure Centre car park in Nuneaton until 31 May.

This move comes as a response to capacity issues at the scanner's current location.

In stepping in to host the unit, Nuneaton and Bedworth Borough Council aims to facilitate the smooth continuation and delivery of healthcare service services.

The initiative will help ensure that appointments are delivered locally and efficiently for the community of the borough.

Katie Memetovic-Bye, Assistant Director for Recreation and Culture at Nuneaton and Bedworth Borough Council, said: "We are proud to support our community by hosting this screening unit at Pingles Leisure Centre car park."

"It's a small step that can make a big difference in ensuring vital health services remain accessible to residents of the borough."

Award-winning leisure operator Everyone Active runs Pingles Leisure Centre in partnership with Nuneaton and Bedworth Borough Council.

Lloyd Barraclough, Everyone Active's Area Contract Manager, said: "We are pleased to play our part in supporting the health of the local community, both inside and outside our centre, and we look forward to welcoming this screening service."

Further similar arrangements are being considered by the Council over the coming months to assist in meeting the healthcare needs of the borough.

While a small number of car parking spaces will be unavailable during this time to facilitate the unit, the impact on overall parking availability is expected to be minimal.

Day of Events Marks VE Day in Nuneaton

A full day of celebrations took place in Nuneaton to mark the 80th anniversary of VE Day on Thursday 8 May.

Events in Nuneaton started at 8:30am, with wreaths laid at the Riversley Park War Memorial.

At 9am on Nuneaton Town Hall steps, a brass band played to the gathering crowds before the VE Day flag was raised and town crier, Paul Gough cried out a proclamation.

Also at the Town Hall, there was a meet and greet with 30 Signal Regiment and Royal British Legion.

There were silhouettes of soldiers on display and the building was decorated with bunting.

People also enjoyed a Nuneaton Memories photo display of local VE Day celebrations as well as listening to a performance from the Well Songs singers.

Artefacts from 1945 were on display and people could find out about the Home Front in Nuneaton and Bedworth and see drawings and pictures celebrating VE80 from school children.

Later in the day there were free mechanical ponycycles and 1940s music in the Market Place, also decked with bunting.

Take a Walk in Hartshill Hayes

If you're looking for the perfect spot for a spring/summer walk then on the outskirts of Nuneaton in Hartshill is an ancient woodland and an area of outstanding natural beauty.

Hartshill Hayes Country Park covers approximately one mile of woodland and offers the perfect opportunity to take a mental break from the stresses of day-to-day life, full of fascinating flora, fauna and wildlife.

On a clear day this ancient hilly woodland will provide views across four counties.

Most of the 137 acres of Hartshill Hayes Country Park is former ancient semi-natural woodland. As a result, the majority of the country park is now classified as PAWS, (Plantations on Ancient Woodland Sites).

The woodland was predominantly cleared and planted in the 1950s with Hybrid Larch, Red Oak and Scots Pine as the Forestry Commission was driven to make woodlands more productive. Despite this, many of the original Small Leaved Lime and Sessile Oak still grow to this day.

Warwickshire County Council took ownership of the woodland in the early 1980's. The long-term management plan has always been to restore the woodland from a plantation on an ancient woodland to a multi-purpose native ancient semi natural woodland. This would offer high value conservation and recreation uses with small scale timber production.

Hartshill Hayes Country Park really is a hidden gem with its 137 acres offering woodlands, open hilltop meadows, and panoramic views over the Anker Valley.

The Park has a long history of human use and habitation, and the woods are ancient and species-rich; a fantastic place for learning about wildlife, nature, and history.

Facilities on-site include a playground, toilets and an outdoor shelter.

NEW FREE BOILER SCHEME

A new Government scheme is available to households with an old “Non-Condensing” boiler. If your boiler is over 15 years old, there is a good chance it will be Non-Condensing

Under the new ECO4 Government scheme we can also offer Cavity wall & Loft insulation, Flat roof & External & Internal wall insulation. Room in roof insulation totally FREE.
